A message from our Directors:

Harry Corry Interiors is a family run business which was established by the late Harry Corry in 1968. Within Harry Corry's we strive to ensure that each employee is valued in their role and that their career within our organisation is one in which they feel equal regardless of their gender and we hope this is felt by all and is evident to our customers in the interactions with our team members both instore and online. The purpose of this report is to ensure that within Harry Corry's we identify and remove any barriers related to gender that may inhibit progression within our organisation. By reporting our gender pay statistics we hope this will show our support and commitment to our employees, raise morale, encourage new applicants to apply to work for a company that provides equal pay and opportunities, and to reaffirm our commitment and support of equality. The following information is in accordance with the standards set out in the Gender Pay Gap Information Act 2021 (Ireland).

Due Diligence

At Harry Corry, we are a welcoming, inclusive and a flexible workplace. Our people are at the heart of our business. We champion personal development and actively encourage and support internal progression opportunities for all our employees. Our work force has traditionally been made up of a majority of female staff. We believe this is reflective of our friendly and flexible approach, supporting our colleagues in finding a work-life balance that works for them.

From 2022, each year we will be required to publish our Gender Pay Gap figures. This report is a snapshot of our pay by gender, across our 26 stores in Ireland, as of the 18th June 2022. During the 12-month reporting period up to 18th June 2022, there was a marginal difference in the total earned by women over men. We believe this reflects our commitment to our people and our focus on developing an inclusive workplace where everyone feels valued. All of our actions strive to ensure our colleagues feel supported and know that we understand their needs. We rely on our people, our customers and our communities. As ever we want to say a huge thank you to all our colleagues across the business for their commitment to being the difference for each other, for our customers and for the company.

What is the Gender Pay Gap?

The Gender Pay Gap is different to an equal pay comparison. Equal pay relates to men and women being paid equally for the same, similar or equivalent work, whereas the Gender Pay Gap Report looks at average pay comparisons between men and women, across a broader comparison group, regardless of the nature of their work.

We continue to take the appropriate steps to ensure we continue to pay people equally for carrying out the same role. We benchmark our roles and associated pay using market data sources and we review our pay framework on an annual basis.

This report focuses on the Gender Pay gap and covers all our Harry Corry colleagues in the Republic of Ireland.

Measuring Gender Pay

Our Gender Pay Gap has been calculated using the mechanisms that are set out in the Gender Pay Gap Information Regulations 2022. Under these regulations the Gender Pay Gap is defined as the difference between the median and the mean hourly rates of remuneration that men and women receive.

Equal opportunity for women and men

This Gender Pay Gap Report sets out where we stand in 2022.

A negative gender pay gap means that, on average, women's gross hourly earnings are higher than those of men.

A positive gender pay gap means that, on average, men's gross hourly earnings are higher than those of women.

Pay	Mean Gap -1.9%	Bonus	Mean Gap -24%
	Median -0.4%		Median -67%

Our Pay Quartiles

Pay quartiles are calculated by listing the pay rates for all colleagues from lowest to highest, before splitting them into four equal-sized groups. The proportion of male and female colleagues that appear in each group is then calculated.

The percentage of women in each pay quarter

In this organisation women occupy 91.5% of the highest paid jobs and 90.1% of the lowest paid jobs.

Hourly Pay Gap

The median Pay Gap

If we lined up all our female employees in order of how much they were paid (by the hour) and all our male colleagues in another, the median of each group would be the middle person in the line. The median Gender Pay Gap is the difference in pay between the middle female and the middle male.

Median Gender Pay Gap 2022 -0.4%
In this organisation women earn €1.004 for every €1 that men earn when comparing median hourly pay. Their median hourly pay is 0.4% higher than men.

The median gender pay gap for part time employees is -0.5%
The median gender pay gap for temporary employees is +0.4%

Temporary Employees

Taking into consideration geographical differences in the cost of living, our rates of pay vary accordingly.

During the reporting period there was a variation, in line with their geographical locations, between our male temporary employees and our female temporary employees. This resulted in the median male earning 0.4% more than the median female. The median female employee earned 99.7 cents for every €1 the median male employee earned

The mean Pay Gap

The mean pay gap shows the difference in average hourly pay for women compared to the average hourly rate of pay for men.

We are happy to report that our mean gender pay gap stands at -1.9%, meaning our female employees earn, on average, a 1.9% higher wage.

When comparing mean (average) hourly pay, women earn €1.019 for every €1 that men earn. Women's mean hourly pay is 1.9% higher than men's.
